

Coming Your Way Soon : A New World Order!

Published On : October 19, 2009

Last Updated : October 19, 2009

Manipulative Elitist Organizations & Secret Societies, A New World Order And One World Government, Rise Of Globalization, Globalist Financial Institutions Are Signs Of The Inevitable, Revelation's 666 And Mark Of The Beast, Skull And Bones - The Bush Connection, "Toward A New World Order" And The Gulf War, George H. W. Bush, Brent Scowcroft And "A World Transformed", 2003 Invasion Of Iraq - George W. Bush's Blunder, The Possible Aftermath Of The Iraq War, History Of Phrase New World Order, Pres. Woodrow Wilson, Winston Churchill And Mikhail Gorbachev, H. G. Wells - "The New World Order" And "The Shape Of Things To Come", "Dictatorship Of The Air" And "Prince Of The Power Of The Air", Nimrod & The Children Of Disobedience, Judgment Of the Beast, False Prophet & Receivers Of Mark Of The Beast, Shinar = The Land Of Nimrod = Babylonia = Mesopotamia = Iraq, "Labor Pains" Of The Middle East, Millennial Rule Of Christ, Skull And Bones & Bush And Magog, H. G. Wells And Bush Names, George Orwell And "1984", Conspiracy Theorists & Speculations, Intentional Manipulation Of Information, Age Old War Of Words, Satan - The Father Of Lies And Manipulation, Apparent Impunity Of Conspiracy Theorists, Who Do They Really Work For?, Tactics Of Freemasons, Unstoppable Globalist Agenda?, Save Your Money, Truth-Tellers Or Savvy Worldly Businessmen, Money-Making Bible Hucksters & Filthy Lucre, Our Destiny With A New World Order, Power Corrupts And The Control Of Money Equals Absolute Power, Root Of All Evil, The Globalist Dream - A Global Slave Market, Patience Of The Saints, Satan's Lust For Power, Short Reign, And His Final Fall, Judgment And Punishment, New Heavens And A New Earth, A More Sure Word Of Prophecy, Closing Remarks

Recently, a Christian friend wrote to me and asked me if I could point her to hard copy publications and other sources which discuss elitist organizations and secret societies such as the Bilderberg group, powerful banking families like the Rockefellers and the Rothschilds, the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Federal Reserve, the Skull and Bones society of Yale University, and lastly, the Freemasons. As you may already know, there is a widely held belief within certain conspiracy theory circles, that the aforementioned organizations, societies and individuals have as their primary and ultimate goal, a New World Order which will be governed by a powerful One World Government.

To what degree these entities are each involved in the birth of a New World Order, I honestly do not know; but it should be rather obvious to any informed person at this late date, that a New World Order is clearly almost upon us. The rapid development, growth and promotion of globalization is clear evidence of this fact. Various financial institutions, such as the International Monetary Fund, the World Economic Forum, the World Bank, the World Trade Organization, and similar institutions, all herald the arrival of a new economic order which will undoubtedly be global in scope.

Furthermore, as I explain in some of my other articles which are dedicated to the discussion of the 666 -- or Mark of the Beast -- such as "Mondex And The Mark Of The Beast", "666: The Patience Of The Saints", "666: More Proof Of The Coming System" and "666: VeriChip, Somark And Microsoft Unmasked!", as a Bible-believing Christian, I have absolutely no doubt that in coming years, the world will experience a tyrannical, demon-inspired, global government such as it has never seen before. God's Word informs us that this world government will not only be blessed by, as well as empowered by, Satan, but that its source of power will in large part be economic power. In the Book of Revelation, the Apostle John clearly warned us about this oppressive government with the following words:

"And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six."
Revelation 13:16-18, KJV

One point of interest is the fact that U.S. President George H. W. Bush, and his son, U.S. President George W. Bush, were "Bonesmen"; that is, they were members of Skull and Bones at Yale. The possible significance of this -- in the context of secret societies and conspiracy theories -- is that George H. W. Bush is sometimes credited with being responsible for the modern popularization of the phrase "New World Order", as a result of a speech he gave to a joint session of Congress in September of 1990, entitled "Toward A New World Order". The purpose of his speech was to acquire authorization for aerial bombardments and land-based assaults against Iraq during the opening salvos of the Gulf War, following Saddam Hussein's invasion of Kuwait in August of that same year. During the speech, President George H. W. Bush stated:

----- Begin Quote -----

"Out of these troubled times, our fifth objective -- a new world order -- can emerge; a new era, freer from the threat of terror, stronger in the pursuit of justice, and more secure in the quest for peace. An era in which the nations of the world, East and West, North and South, can prosper and live in harmony . . . A world where the rule of law supplants the rule of the jungle. A world in which nations recognize the shared responsibility for freedom and justice. A world where the strong respect the rights of the weak."

----- End Quote -----

What I find interesting about the Persian Gulf War, is that if George W. Bush -- the son -- had taken heed to his own father's wisdom, the United States would not now be deeply embroiled in an almost seven-year bloody war in Iraq, which has cost hundreds of thousands of lives -- including Iraqis and foreigners -- has destroyed the government, economy and infrastructure of a sovereign nation, and has resulted in untold hardship and suffering for those who are left to pick up the pieces. On top of the human suffering, it has been an extremely costly war which has run into the billions of U.S. dollars; money which could have been spent on much better causes, such as helping the sick, the elderly and the poor.

As you may recall, when President George H. W. Bush suddenly withdrew American forces after one hundred hours of direct engagement in Iraq, he became the target of a considerable amount of criticism from the warmongers who felt that the coalition forces should not only have pushed all the way to Baghdad, but they should have ousted Saddam Hussein from power as well. In response to his critics, in 1998, Bush Sr., together with Brent Scowcroft -- who had been Bush's National Security Advisory -- published "A World Transformed". In the book, they state that one of the reasons why the order wasn't given to continue to Baghdad, and overthrow Saddam Hussein, was because it "would have incurred incalculable human and political costs". They also state "We would have been forced to occupy Baghdad and, in effect, rule Iraq". A few sentences later, they speculate that "Had we gone the invasion route, the United States could still conceivably be an occupying power in a bitterly hostile land. It would have been a dramatically different -- and perhaps barren -- outcome".

So as you can see, President George H. W. Bush realized that if he were to give American forces the go-ahead to proceed to Baghdad, and to take down Saddam Hussein, not only would such actions result in the serious consequence of destabilizing the nation, but they might result in American military forces being bogged down in Iraq for years to come; which, ironically, is exactly what is now occurring with the second Bush's war.

What a tragedy! Everything that George H. W. Bush knew not to do during "Operation Desert Storm", President George W. Bush -- his son -- went ahead and did twelve years later, like a proud, stubborn son who thinks that he knows better; and the tragic results have been exactly as Bush Senior had foreseen them: a nation destabilized to the point of civil war, human suffering affecting all concerned, strong hatred towards the USA in Iraq and around the world, and a bloody, violent war that has lasted almost seven years, and which has drained the coffers of the USA, and of other countries as well. I suspect that once all of the coalition forces have withdrawn from the country -- as most of them have already done, or are planning to do soon -- there is going to be one terrible, bloody civil war as the Shi'ites, Sunnis and Kurds battle for supremacy, and for control of Iraq's natural resources -- primarily the oil.

If one sect does manage to overpower the other two, I suspect that it will form a tyrannical government which will be every bit as cruel and oppressive as that of Saddam Hussein. Ethnic cleansing will be the order of the day, as it already is now. The only other possible outcome that I can foresee, is that Iraq will be ripped apart into three smaller nations, which may possibly choose to work together as a loose confederacy, while still retaining their own sovereignty.

If you're interested in learning more about my personal views concerning the American fiasco in Iraq, I invite you to read such articles as the series "Capture Of Saddam Hussein And The New Babylon", the series "Saddam Hussein's Execution And The Euro-Dollar War", and the series "Obama, McCain And The Bush Legacy". These can all be found in the "World Politics" section of the Endtime Prophecy Net web site.

But returning to my main point, while George H. W. Bush has been credited with popularizing the phrase and concept of a New World Order, it should be pointed out that both American President Woodrow Wilson and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill utilized this term many decades earlier. Russian president Mikhail Gorbachev also promoted the concept of a New World Order in a speech he gave before the United Nations General Assembly on December 7, 1988, and there exist other historical examples where individuals have used the term. For example, renowned British novelist H. G. Wells -- who was an outspoken socialist and a utopian -- envisioned in his books a benign, global government which would unite the people of the world, and bring an end to devastating war.

In January of 1940, Mr. Wells published a book entitled, not surprisingly, "The New World Order". Seven years earlier, in 1933, Wells published "The Shape Of Things To Come" in which -- although it is science fiction -- he accurately described the advent of World War II in 1939, although in his book, war breaks out in January of 1940. H. G. Wells' solution to man's propensity to wage war was a global, benevolent dictatorship in which religion -- including Christianity -- was abolished. Wells refers to this global government as "The Dictatorship Of The Air". Does that name remind you of anything? There is indeed a global dictatorship coming alright, but it won't be run by good-hearted individuals as envisioned by Mr. Wells; it will be run by none other than Satan himself in disguise; who the Apostle Paul calls the Prince of the Power of the Air:

"Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:"
Ephesians 2:2, KJV

Make no mistake. The powerful globalists and elitists who will usher in the coming New World Order and One World Government, and the people who will accept the Mark of the Beast, will in fact be the "children of disobedience". Why? Because they'll be acting in direct defiance to God, just as proud Nimrod did over four millennia ago, when he too sought to build himself an empire. And, just like Nimrod, they will pay the ultimate price for their disobedience, as we see here:

"And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image."
Revelation 16:2, KJV

"And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name."

Revelation 14:9-11, KJV

"And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone."

Revelation 19:20, KJV

In the book of Genesis we are told that Nimrod failed in his vain attempt to unite the people of the Earth, to consolidate his power, and to achieve his lofty goal of building a tower which would reach unto Heaven, as we see here:

"And Cush begat Nimrod: he began to be a mighty one in the earth. He was a mighty hunter before the LORD: wherefore it is said, Even as Nimrod the mighty hunter before the LORD. And the beginning of his kingdom was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of Shinar."

Genesis 10:8-10, KJV

"And the whole earth was of one language, and of one speech. And it came to pass, as they journeyed from the east, that they found a plain in the land of Shinar; and they dwelt there. And they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and burn them throughly. And they had brick for stone, and slime had they for mortar. And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth. And the LORD came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of men builded. And the LORD said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do. Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech. So the LORD scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the LORD scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth."

Genesis 11:1-9, KJV

These ancient events occurred in Shinar, which later became known as Babylonia. The book of the Prophet Micah even refers to this region as "the land of Nimrod", as we see here:

"And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: thus shall he deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders."

Micah 5:6, KJV

As I point out in other articles, such as "The Seven Heads", the Assyrians who dwelt in the north, and the Babylonians who dwelt in the south, were closely related, and shared some of the same cultural and religious traditions. Not only that, but Babylonian king Nebuchadnezzar's father, Nabopolassar, was a Chaldean who rose through the ranks of the Assyrian army to become a general, and ultimately, the first king of Babylonia. Only decades ago, this same area of the world was known as Mesopotamia -- or "the land between two rivers" -- and today it is known as the nation of Iraq. Thus we can see that dark spiritual forces have been at work in that region of the Middle East for millennia; and today, Satan -- who the Bible refers to as the Destroyer -- has turned it into a violent hellhole on Earth once again.

Let me also add that it is the rich Biblical history of that region, and its direct ties to some of the ancient Biblical Prophets and their prophecies, such as Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, etc., which leads me to believe that Iraq, and Iran, may play pivotal roles in the Endtime scenario. It is possible that the very fact that there is so much turmoil in the region right now, may be an indication that something new may soon break forth there. In a sense, the Middle East, -- and particularly Iraq -- is experiencing labor pains. The question is, what will come forth when the process has been completed?

So again, just as Nimrod failed in his attempt to establish his New World Order and a One World Government, in similar fashion, the Beast and the False Prophet -- who will be the leaders of the coming One World Government -- and all of the people who choose to blindly follow after them, will likewise meet a similar fate; because God refuses to take second place to anyone. The only successful New World Order that there is ever going to be, will be the one which Jesus Christ Himself will establish during the Golden Age of the Millennium. For more details concerning this topic, please consider reading the article "From Armageddon To The New Earth". As we read in the Book of Daniel:

"And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever."

Daniel 2:44, KJV

Returning to the Skull and Bones society for a moment, what I also find disturbing is the fact that within Skull and Bones, members are given certain nicknames. According to some online sources, it seems that George Herbert Walker Bush was given the name "Magog" due to his alleged sexual prowess. If you are a Christian, and are familiar with the Biblical nature of the name Magog -- please refer to the article "Battle Of Gog And Magog And The War In Yugoslavia!" -- the fact that George H. W. Bush received this nickname should disturb you as well. Is it significant that this particular modern-day "Magog" was responsible for the initial invasion of Iraq and the Gulf War?

Allow me to share another bit of information with you which I personally found to be uncanny. Chronologically-speaking, the lives of H. G. Wells and George H. W. Bush overlapped for a period of some twenty-two years. Mr. Wells was still alive at the time that George H. W. Bush entered young adulthood, and attended Yale University. Bush graduated from Yale University in 1948 two years after the death of H. G. Wells. What I find interesting is that not only did these two men share similar views regarding a New World Order, but there is a similarity in their names as well. Consider the following:

Herbert George W . . . ells
George Herbert W . . . alker Bush

It may have no significance whatsoever; nevertheless, I found it interesting.

Another famous writer by the name of George who had rather strong concerns regarding oppressive governments -- and who was a contemporary of Wells and Bush Sr. -- was Eric Arthur Blair, a.k.a. George Orwell. As you undoubtedly know, Orwell was the author of the classic novel "1984". Orwell in fact died four years after H. G. Wells passed away, and two years after George H. W. Bush graduated from Yale University. On one occasion, George Orwell had a strong dispute with H. G. Wells. While H. G. Wells praised the benefits and merits of a powerful global government, and viewed it as the "savior" of humanity, Orwell was strongly opposed to such totalitarian regimes, as is evidenced in "1984". I can't help but wonder if Eric Arthur Blair chose "George Orwell" as his pseudonym, as a sort of antonym to Herbert George Wells, due to their opposing political views. Thus we have these three men who have all been connected in some way to ideas concerning a New World Order and global governance:

Herbert George W . . . ells
George Herbert W . . . alker Bush
George Or . . . W . . . ell

Interesting indeed! But again, it is probably just a matter of coincidence, and nothing of true significance; so please don't interpret it any other way . . . unless you happen to be a conspiracy theorist! :)

Returning to the topic which inspired this article, allow me to state the following. To be quite honest, I really don't know why anyone would want to waste their hard-earned money on publications which allegedly expose the inner workings of some of the aforementioned secret societies and organizations, when there is already a great deal of information that can be freely found on the Internet, simply by using a search engine such as Google. There are literally thousands of conspiracy theory web sites which will be more than happy to share their particular theories and speculations regarding these elitist organizations and secret societies. In addition, there's also quite a number of videos and radio broadcasts which one can freely download, if he goes to the right places, and has the skill to use certain types of software.

But there is a problem. As I've explained before, whether one is reading information on the web, or listening to a radio broadcast, or reading some book which claims to reveal hidden information regarding elitist organizations, secret societies and the globalist agenda, he honestly doesn't know with any degree of certainty that what he is being told is the truth. If there is one thing that we can learn from George Orwell's "1984", it is that information can easily be manipulated, and made to say whatever the propagator of the information wants it to say. Whether the propagator is a national government, or a product advertiser, or a poll taker, or simply a conspiracy theorist who wants to convince you of his particular point of view, the fact remains that the intentional manipulation of information is a given in our modern day. It is a craft which has been used by many governments, organizations, religions and other entities and individuals for literally millennia.

As I explained in the 1998 series "John Lennon's Imagine And Secular Humanism", as well as in other articles, there is a constant, unending war of words that is being fought to win our hearts and minds; and there should be no doubt that when the Beast and the False Prophet finally arrive on the scene, they will both be masters of this ancient craft, because it was founded by none other than Satan himself, the Father of Lies, as we see here:

"Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it."
John 8:44, KJV

". . . hath God said . . ."
Genesis 3:1, KJV

But concerning these conspiracy theorists, if these elitist organizations and secret societies are really as perverse, evil and manipulative as some of us suspect, then one really has to wonder how it is that certain individuals who expose their evil machinations, can so freely share what they know, or perhaps more accurately stated, at least what they claim to know, with seeming impunity. In other words, we need to ask ourselves why these organizations and secret societies don't simply silence these conspiracy theorists. By writing tell-all books, and making tell-all videos, and broadcasting tell-all radio programs, isn't it reasonable to assume that these individuals pose a threat to the agenda of these shady globalist organizations?

After contemplating this dilemma for a while, I arrived at a few possible conclusions. First, it may simply be that some of these people are so far out in left field with their pet theories and speculations, that they don't pose a threat to anyone; and by "anyone", I'm referring to the globalists and the secret societies which these conspiracy theorists claim to expose. Another possible reason why they are left alone, is because if these exposers of secrets were seriously harmed or silenced in some way, it would obviously make these secret societies and elitist organizations look even more guilty. In other words, bringing harm to the conspiracy theorists would only serve to verify that what they are saying is true; thus these organizations let these conspiracy theorists rattle on, and simply ridicule them as being crazy, loose cannons.

But there is another interesting possibility which we should consider, and that is this: What if some of these conspiracy theorists are actually employed by some of the very societies and organizations which they are supposedly trying to expose?

What if some of them are serving as "red herrings" in order to purposely draw people away from the truth concerning these organizations? At the very least, I suspect that some of the organizations are purposely feeding false information to the conspiracy theorists, all the while laughing behind their backs. As I type these words, I am thinking of one writer in particular who claims to be receiving privileged information from a few members of the Freemasons.

In my mind, it simply doesn't make any sense that a dedicated member of any secret society would intentionally and knowingly share privileged information regarding their society, with a writer who they know is bent on exposing their organization. Therefore, I can only conclude that if this writer is actually telling the truth, and he is truly receiving such information, then it must be false information which is purposely meant to lead people astray.

It has long been said that organizations like the Freemasons will purposely mislead people, including their own lower-level initiates, so that they think that they're learning the truth regarding the inner doctrines and secrets of the organization, when in fact, the organization is purposely leading them away from the truth concerning themselves, until such time when the organization's leaders feel that the initiate has sufficiently progressed, and is truly ready for, and in some perverted way, worthy of their closely-guarded secrets.

Of course, there is one final possibility; and that is that at this point in time, the globalist agenda of these elitist organizations and secret societies has advanced so far, and the New World Order is now so unstoppable, that they simply don't care that their plans are now being exposed; and that is an alarming thought which should serve as a wake-up call to all of us.

Taking into consideration everything that I've just stated, perhaps you will understand why I personally hold the view that any investment in any publication -- whether it is a book, or a video, or any other form of media which purports to expose the globalist agenda of elitist organizations and secret societies -- is a potential waste of money. As we've now seen, we really don't know what we are getting for our money; and we may very well be purchasing our own delusion. If an organization has closely-guarded secrets, practices and doctrines, they will obviously do everything in their power to protect them, so that they never see the light of day. As a result, any information that we discover on the web, or elsewhere, is suspect, and trying to ascertain its veracity and truthfulness will be difficult, and perhaps even impossible.

As I've explained to my readers before, it is for this very reason that I prefer not to dwell at length on any of these globalist organizations and secret societies in my writings. I prefer to teach what I do know and understand, at least to some degree; and that is the Bible. After all, it is only God's Word which truly inspires faith, saves souls, changes lives, and offers hope to a desperate and slowly-dying world.

It is also very important for us to remember that while some of these conspiracy theorists may be sincerely interested in alerting people to the truth regarding the globalist agenda, first and foremost, some of them are worldly businessmen who are also very much interested in earning a lot of money. As a result, it is not beyond any of them to purposely distort the facts to varying degrees, and to hype up their version of the truth, in order to promote their book or video. As a prime example of this kind of shameful behavior, I could not help but notice that in recent months, one particular conspiracy theorist -- a Christian no less -- has been enticing, baiting and manipulating visitors to his web site, by advising them to, in his words, "Read it before it is banned by the U.S. Government."

As if to justify his blatant over-the-top advertising for his soon-to be-published book, this person claims that his web site has already been blocked by some military institutions. Quite frankly, as I first mentioned over twelve years ago in my 1997 article "Money-Making Bible Hucksters And Mammon", it appalls me, and upsets me, that so many Christian writers and preachers today have turned God's business of preaching the Gospel to the lost into just another worldly business venture. Jesus and the Apostles of the First Century referred to this as preaching the Gospel for filthy lucre; that is to say, for personal financial gain, as we see here:

". . . freely ye have received, freely give."
Matthew 10:8b, KJV

"Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous; . . . Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;"
1 Timothy 3:3, 8, KJV

"For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre; . . . Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake."
Titus 1:7, 11, KJV

"Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;"
1 Peter 5:2, KJV

In conclusion, when all is said and done, regardless of what these conspiracy theorists say, or don't say, it remains an indisputable fact that God's Word -- the Bible -- predicts that humanity does in fact have a terrible destiny with a New World Order, which will be ushered in by the architects of a One World Government. However, what we all need to realize, is that in stark contrast to the hopeful expectations of such individuals as H. G. Wells, George H. W. Bush, and a host of other like-minded globalists, elitists and world leaders who continue to advance their agenda year after year, the coming New World Order will not be benevolent. It will be cruel; it will be heartless; and it will be oppressive. The architects of the soon-to-be global governance may think that they are doing the right thing, and that they are truly helping to save the world, but in the end, something will go terribly wrong when a Satan-possessed man takes control of the helm.

As the old saying goes, "Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely". Furthermore, the creed of the rich and the elite -- such as the globalists -- is that money means power, and the absolute control of money equates to absolute power. Influential international banking families such as the German Jewish Rothschilds certainly embrace this belief; but consider what the Apostle Paul had to say regarding this issue:

"For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows."

1 Timothy 6:10, KJV

And that is precisely why the coming New World Order, which will be an economic order, will be so evil, and so corrupt. It will be motivated by profit, and not by genuine concern for the well-being of humanity. In fact, as we saw earlier, every man, woman and child -- whether rich or poor -- will be considered the property of the One World Government of the Beast and his False Prophet. The bottom line is that the money-minded globalists are going to create a global slave market, short and simple; and just like cattle, people will be stamped with the Mark of the Beast, or be forced to face some serious consequences due to their refusal to "bow down and worship me".

With the world economy already in a chaotic mess due to the greed-induced current meltdown -- which I suspect may have been purposely engineered -- and foreign sweat shops already abounding in many countries, it is safe to say that the world is already well on its way to achieving the globalist dream. So welcome to the Brave New World! I hope that you are brave enough -- and filled with enough faith -- to endure it until Jesus returns for His children. As John the Revelator wrote:

"Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus."

Revelation 14:12, KJV

But isn't that exactly what Satan, that old serpent, has wanted all along; that is, to have power, to be in control, and to be worshipped? As I share in the article "Satan: Origin, Purpose And Future", a long time ago, due to his pride and vanity, that evil Demon of Darkness said in his foul and nasty heart:

". . . I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High."

Isaiah 14:13b-14, KJV

But, as the Scriptures inform us, he failed once before, and he will fail again:

"How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! . . . Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit."

Isaiah 14:12, 15, KJV

"And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven."

Luke 10:18, KJV

"And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him . . . the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night . . . Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time."

Revelation 12:7-9, 10, 12 KJV

So Satan -- the false god of this world, as the Apostle Paul calls him -- will have his day in the sun when he temporarily reigns as the Supreme Leader of a fallen world in a globalist fantasy called the New World Order, but his days will surely be numbered. While his human host may indeed number humanity with the Mark of the Beast, when his number is up, that old serpent will be bound for a thousand years. Eventually, after being let loose for a "little season" in order to test the world again, he'll receive his final judgment and punishment when he is thrown into the Lake of Fire, where the Beast and the False Prophet are, as we see here:

"And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever."

Revelation 20:10, KJV

Thereafter -- as the Apostle Peter tells us -- there shall be New Heavens, and a New Earth, wherein dwells righteousness:

"Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."

2 Peter 3:13, KJV

And that, my friends, is the end of the story . . . or is it just the Beginning? I pray that you have found this article informative, and I trust that it will be a blessing to many. If there is one thing which I hope that you have learned from reading it, it is that regardless of how much, or even how little, we know about elitist organizations, globalist institutions, and secret societies, we can always trust in the Word of God to point us to the truth; for as the Apostle Peter wrote, it is a more sure word of prophecy:

"We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:"

2 Peter 1:19, KJV

The opinions of men can be wrong. I can be wrong; you can be wrong; but God's Word is never wrong, and in the end, that is all that really matters, isn't it?

Written by the WordWeaver

webmaster@endtimeprophecy.net
<http://www.endtimeprophecy.net>